This is the revised edition of "Application Guide, AG 1/2001", ISBN 0860225690. It contains all the recommendations for design, installation, system flushing and chemical cleaning of pipework systems; but also includes a complete new section dealing with the issues raised when connecting new pipework to existing pipework. The Guide is intended for designers and installers of recirculating heating and cooling systems, and does not apply to hot and cold water supplies. It also includes test for pseudomonas.
