Now a major motion picture

“One of those achingly assured novels that makes you happy to be a reader.” —Junot Diaz

At a café table in Lahore, a bearded Pakistani man converses with an uneasy American stranger. As dusk deepens to night, he begins the tale that has brought them to this fateful encounter . . .

Changez is living an immigrant’s dream of America. At the top of his class at Princeton, he is snapped up by an elite valuation firm. He thrives on the energy of New York, and his budding romance with elegant, beautiful Erica promises entry into Manhattan society at the same exalted level once occupied by his own family back in Lahore.

But in the wake of September 11, Changez finds his position in his adopted city suddenly overturned, and his relationship with Erica shifting. And Changez’s own identity is in seismic shift as well, unearthing allegiances more fundamental than money, power, and maybe even love.

“Brief, charming, and quietly furious . . . a resounding success.” —Village Voice

A Washington Post and San Francisco Chronicle Best Book of the Year

A New York Times Notable Book

Adam Blandford:

As a pupil exactly feel bored in order to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or even make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's spirit or real their passion. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring in addition to can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this The Reluctant Fundamentalist can make you sense more interested to read.
